ABSTRACT

Compiled for educators who evaluate limited-English proficient (LEP) students, this directory lists over 200 tests available in 19 languages in addition to English. Tests are listed alphabetically by language, with a description that provides the name of the instrument, area tested, purpose of the test, grade or age level for which the test is intended, publisher, copyright date, price, administration time, and institutions that can supply copies of the test. Areas of assessment and the number of tests listed for each are as follows: adaptive behavior (1), aptitude (4), articulation (4), achievement (14), attitude (10), auditory processing (3), basic concepts (1), developmental stage (1), intelligence (37), language (97), mathematics (4), personality (3), readiness skills (7), reading and writing (18), and vocational proficiency (10). There are 101 tests in Spanish, 22 in French, 17 in Chinese, 13 in Portuguese, and 12 in Italian. From one to four tests are listed for Armenian, Cambodian, Creole, Danish, Dutch, German, Hebrew, Ilokano, Japanese, Korean, Laotian, Samoan, Tagalog, and Vietnamese. The 17 tests listed in English include language dominance tests and achievement and aptitude tests intended for bilingual and/or multicultural groups. Tests are cross-referenced by title and area of assessment. (JHZ)

July 1985

Introduction to Directory Entries

This directory provides educators with access to a variety of assessment instruments, which can be used with diverse language populations and for various purposes. To aid educators in selecting appropriate instruments from over two hundred tests listed in the directory, extensive descriptions of each instrument have been provided. Each description includes the name of the instrument, the major category in which it is grouped (e.g., achievement, intelligence, math, reading, etc.), the purpose of the test, according to the authors (where available), the grade and/or age level for which the test is intended, the publisher, the copyright date, the price, administration time, and the name of institutions who own a copy of the test. Where information is not available, the symbols "N/S" appear.

Tests appear in the directory alphabetically by language. Within each language section, the tests are arranged in major categories, within each of the major categories the instruments are listed alphabetically by title. To further facilitate locating individual instruments, tests are cross-referenced in the indices at the back of the directory, where one can find a test by its test name, purpose, or major category.

Educators are reminded that this collection of assessment instruments is not exhaustive. Persons interested in a more exhaustive list are encouraged to contact the EDAC at Lesly College, the Northwest Educational Cooperative, or the National Clearinghouse for Bilingual Education, 1555 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 605, Rosslyn, Virginia, 22209 (800-336-4560) or (713-522-0710).

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Indiana Department of Education gratefully acknowledges the work of Ms. Nahid Khazindar-Vinh in assembling this publication. She was ably supported in her efforts by the staff of the Department of Education's Divisions of Migrant and Bilingual-Bicultural Education and Research and Assessment. Special thanks also go to the many publishers who gave permission to use information about their respective instruments.

Preface

The Indiana Department of Education is pleased to make available this directory of assessment instruments for limited-English proficient (LEP) students. The Department recognizes the importance of assessing students in a language they understand for proper placement into appropriate instructional programs. To that end, and in compliance with P.L. 94-142, the Department has established rules (see Rule S-1) to ensure that non-native English speaking students are not placed into special education programs solely on the basis of a lack of abilities in English, and that those students who do need special instruction are appropriately and adequately screened for such programs.

Many of the critical issues in special education for LEP students concern racial, cultural, and langauge bias in assessment procedures and instruments. The impetus for compiling this directory grew out of a need to identify non-biased assessment instruments so that discriminatory practices in this area of education may be eliminated and LEP students, regardless of their first language or culture, may have equal access to educational programs designed to meet their specific instructional needs.
